

Willemstad – Curacao, October 10th 2024

Dear customers,

Our mv Pia Express has sailed last week from the port of Moin/Costa Rica and was heading for the port of Tampa/Florida for scheduled arrival on October 7th. Unfortunately, due to extremely dangerous hurricane “Milton” and the closure of all terminals around Tampa Bay and most port in Florida, this had resulted into extended delays to the vessel’s arrival. Seacat n.v. is officially declaring Force Majeure and has ordered the vessel to proceed to the port of Panama City/Florida.

The arrival into Panama City/Florida is expected for October 12th 2024. Seacatline n.v. will discharge all cargo on board of Pia Express (under VN JE24040NB) in Panama City. Please contact our US agency NAGA Logistics to coordinate the collection of your cargo.

Regards
Seacat n.v.
